

Real Goods Solar Expands to Delaware

March 5, 2012

Louisville, CO, March 5, 2012 – 34-year solar veteran and national powerhouse Real Goods Solar today announced that it has expanded its operations to Delaware, bringing its innovative solar financing plans and three decades of experience to the state.

“Delaware is now offering its residents some of the best incentives in the nation to embrace renewable energy,” explained Mark Nelson, Vice President of Northeast Residential Sales for Real Goods. “Our goal is to help Delaware have the highest per capita adoption of solar power in the country.”

“The new office and expanded sales team will build on Real Goods Solar’s long-standing presence on the east coast,” said John Schaeffer, Residential President of Real Goods Solar. “We look forward to helping First State residents reduce their carbon footprint and their dependence on fossil fuels with solar power.”

As a special introductory offer, Real Goods is offering $500 cash for homeowners that switch to solar by March 31st. To take advantage of this offer, interested homeowners should call 888.56.SOLAR as soon as possible to schedule their free solar site evaluation.
