

RGS Energy's POWERHOUSE™ Partner Risen Ranked Among Top Three Solar PV Module Manufacturers

December 11, 2018

DENVER, Dec. 11, 2018 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Risen Energy (China - Shenzhen: 300118) reported on November 19, 2018 it has been listed by Exawatt Power Rankings as a top three solar PV module manufacturer for the second quarter of 2018. This achievement reflects Risen Energy's outstanding success in developing industry-leading PV module technology and delivering professional project services.

"We are now fulfilling purchase orders from RGS to enable them to meet their customer demand," said Bypina Veerraju Chaudary, Risen Energy's chief sales and marketing officer. "We have begun manufacturing solar components and wire harness connectors for POWERHOUSE™ and expect to increase our production schedule in the coming months. Our deep experience working with new technology makes us ideally suited to help RGS continually improve and reduce the costs to manufacture POWERHOUSE™."

Dennis Lacey, RGS Energy's CEO, commented: "We believe our POWERHOUSE™ customers will have the peace of mind knowing that the solar component is made by utilizing Risen's expertise, delivered by a strong Tier 1 solar manufacturer. Using technology developed by the Dow Chemical Company and parts supplied by a stellar partner such as Risen, we believe that our solar shingle enables us to offer unsurpassed value proposition in today's market place."
